

APPLICATION FORM

The Daddy Short Legs (DSL) Scholarship was created to assist senior students in meeting financial hurdles, separate from tuition and fees, which would normally prevent a student from graduating.

DSL awards cannot be used towards tuition and fees.

General Eligibility Requirements:

Students must be an undergraduate student in good academic standing, have a minimum of 90 credits, and must be recommended by a faculty member, advisor, PACT Mentor or Student Financial Services Counselor.

As part of the application process you are required to submit two copies of the following items:

- A detailed essay describing your personal goals and achievement, how much money you are requesting, why you need financial assistance, the number of credits you have completed, cumulative GPA and your anticipated date of graduation
- Letter of Recommendation from a faculty member, advisor, PACT Mentor or Student Financial Services Counselor.
- Budget Worksheet including copies of all supporting documentation such as: valid receipts, current invoices and/or billing statements

Incomplete applications will NOT be accepted or considered.

Disclaimer:

The Daddy Short Legs (DSL) scholarship is considered an “institutional, financial aid resource” per federal guidelines. Therefore, the amount of financial assistance you may be awarded from the DSL fund is considered a resource in determining your federal student aid eligibility. If you are currently receiving federal student loans or grants, the receipt of a DSL award may cause a revision to your current financial aid package.
